

Goglio offers a complete system of flexible packaging solutions through the combination of high barrier bags, degassing valves, packaging lines, technical assistance and service. The Goglio System can be used for many kinds of products: foods, chemicals, pharmaceuticals and detergents, or for different packaging technologies such as vacuum, atmosphere or modified atmosphere, aseptic or hot filling. Since 1850, Goglio has been focused on technological research and development according to the highest quality standards in terms of certifications. Attentive to market development and environmental changes, Goglio offers various certified compostable solutions such as barrier capsules, flexible packaging and degassing valves, or recyclable as high-barrier flexible packaging "alu-free". Thanks to beliefs such as innovation, service, quality and commitment, Goglio has become the world leader of the packaging lines and flexible packaging solutions.
