

CARDOSSETI is growing and expanding the business in the North of France

CARDOSSETI, which had until now a limited presence in the north of France, has announced the development of the business with the opening of a branch in Paris. To accompany this evolution, the company has given a new look to its website www.cardosseti.fr.

CARDOSSETI is specialised in the development of customised production, filling and packaging machinery for the cosmetics, pharmaceutical, food and chemical industries amongst others.

This new branch allows the company to service the entire country and go further in what they do best: supporting their customers in their industrial development.

The company's growth is not only a testament to their dedication to the industry. CARDOSSETI's mission is not limited to supplying industrial equipment but to working hand in hand with its clients in order to assist them in their industrial projects and create a true partnership.

CARDOSSETI can fulfil its commitments to its customers through the substantial range of equipment it offers. Each manufacturer that CARDOSSETI represents is specialized in a specific type of machinery, ensuring that all the production requirements of their customers are met across a wide array of products (creams, perfumes etc.), in addition to filling and packaging.

Among the product lines offered, but not limited to, are vacuum mixers, tube and bottle filling machines, capsule machines, labelling machines, cartoners, make-up production equipment etc.

“We lend our expertise to bring the right solution to our customers, no matter what their business needs, with top quality machinery that covers the requirements of the cosmetics, pharmaceutical and food industries” explains Olivier Privet, manager of Southern France.

In order to embody this new expansion, there is nothing like giving new life to the website of CARDOSSETI, www.cardoseti.fr. “We have not only revamped it, we wanted it to be informative and user friendly so that our visitors can access the information they need and contact us easily.” comments Aurélie Amadeo, the manager of the new Northern branch.

For more information, don't hesitate to contact the CARDOSSETI team:

